Professional Social Work's Response during the COVID-19 Pandemic

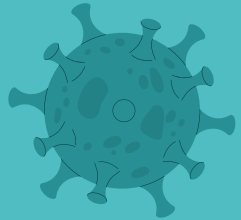

Let us capture professional social work's response to the pandemic

Covid-19 second wave has been catastrophic for India. We were glad to see a number of civil society and non-profit organisations headed by professional social workers and Departments/Schools of Social Work and students providing critical support to families affected by the second wave of Covid-19. As professional social workers, we wanted to understand the kind of support activities taken up by these institutions and individuals. We will appreciate your participation in this short Online Survey and encourage you to answer all the questions. Please note that your individual response will be kept strictly confidential. The survey should take about 30 Minutes. Participation in the survey is voluntary.
